- Algeria, Canada Quebec, Mali, Niger, United Kingdom, Senegal, ...

"The magic of the virtual allows us to see each other while we stay in our cities. We are very close to each other [...] and it is thanks to the magic of technology that we can do this, especially between three continents. (Testimony following the 2011 edition, from Bamako)

"Congratulations on this unique event !" (Testimony following the 2011 edition, from Paris)

PURPOSE AND TARGET AUDIENCE:

The goal of TELESANTE 2012 is to highlight the experiences and existing projects in the "ICT and health" field in order to facilitate their duplication, and to support the development of cooperation and business between the participants.

This conference concerns people involved in the development of ICT in the health sector, and mainly : health professionals, industrials, officials, researchers, students, representatives of associations, patients ...

Thanks to this event, one thousand multidisciplinary participants can yearly meet, exchange, share experiences, get information, develop new areas of collaboration,...

To the partners, this event is the place to :

- create an animation on the territory on telehealth by gathering the professionals concerned on the territory,
- enhance and communicate on the actions of these territories in the telehealth field towards a wide audience (regional, national and international),
- allow the actors on the territory to benefit from experts in the telehealth field.

"TELESANTE 2011 allows us to develop our network, to hear about inspiring and [enrichissantes], and to build real new partnerships." (Testimony following the 2011 edition, from Bamako)

"Thank you again : thanks to this eventy, we continue to fuel the territorial dynamic in telehealth. "
(Testimony following the 2011 edition, from Embrun)

THEMES TELESANTE 2012:

Throughout the event, around twenty projects, innovative experiences, users' testimonies and experts point of views will be presented, thus emphasizing, through interviews, on the territories' main competences in the telehealth field.

The theme of this 2012 edition will be defined by the Organising Committee. This Committee gathers representatives from each partner regions or countries. Its members will select the projects or uses in process on their own territory that they want to present in the program, in accordance with the theme collectively chosen for this event. The Organising Committee will regularly meet by phone conferences.

Directions proposed for the 2012 edition (to reconfirm) with regard to the program :

- a program centered on the patients and their practitioners, and their role and position as regards to telemedicine ;
- a program dealing with the of dependency and its possibly close links with telehealth,
- highlight on the human dimension in regard to these new practices ; the intervention of a philosopher, anthropologist or sociologist on this theme is considered,
- an approach by medical specialties or social applications allowing real comparisons between the testimonies,
- International sessions :
  - A multi-countries session in English between European countries,
  - A session dedicated to the developing countries.

"Your conferences were of great interest to all members of the profession."
(Testimony following the 2011 edition, from Rennes)

"Great interest in the different approaches of similar telehealth applications and in the multiregional and multicultural dimension." (Testimony following the 2011 edition, from Bordeaux)
